

Sustainable C&D Material Management

Managing your company's waste materials in a sustainable manner and maximizing diversion is a critical component of an effective sustainability strategy. Not surprisingly, this often presents the most imposing challenge for nearly every organization, regardless of size. To achieve maximum sustainability, it is imperative for companies to pursue alternatives for dealing with construction and demolition (C&D) materials in an efficient and responsible manner.

We can provide you with smart, turn-key solutions that bring value to your business, minimize the impact on the environment, and enable you to focus more of your time and attention on serving the needs of your customers.

Green Squad Can Help

We offer extensive services to identify your construction site materials, establish customized programs for segregation and diversion, and track the success of your programs.

We can help you:

- Conduct residual materials assessment and inventory to identify opportunities for improvement and the best ways to approach them.
- Maximize diversion opportunities to create new revenue streams for your business and alleviate the strain on local landfills.
- Arrange for third-party haulers and material processing facilities so you can focus more of your time and attention on your customers.
- Develop customized material segregation practices that make it easy for your employees to segregate materials and identify which materials to divert.
- Develop material conveyance and collection plans that support sustainable practices and track the flow of waste materials to ensure they are being managed responsibly.
- Track, verify, and report the performance of material diversion activities so you can comply with environmental mandates and tell the world how you are building a sustainable business.
- Pursue LEED®/Green Building Solid Waste Management certification to put your organization on the forefront of sustainability and boost your brand recognition.

Ask yourself:

- Do you know which materials in your organization can be diverted?
- Have you fully leveraged material segregation practices throughout your business?
- Are you confident that your waste materials are being handled responsibly?
- Are you able to track and report your material diversion performance?
